

Earl R. King, Jr.

ASSOCIATE

Email: kinge@deflaw.com

Office: 404-885-6459

About

Earl King joined Drew Eckl & Farnham in 2017 as an associate focusing primarily on workers' compensation claims. Earl prides himself on hard work, dedication, and a commitment to excellence.

While in law school Earl served as the Symposium Editor, of the NCCU School of Law Biotechnology and Pharmaceutical Law Review. He coordinated the journal's 10th Annual Law Review Symposium which highlighted, "Biomedical Research Involving Healthy Volunteers", and "Ethical Issues Involving Personalized Medical Approaches".

Earl's professional experience managing a private physicians' practice prior to his legal career reflects his ability to transform ideas into action. His previous life experiences bring a unique and valuable perspective to corporate client issues. Using a solution oriented mindset he will be able to tackle both difficult and easy to solve problems which will lead to significant results for all clients.

Education

North Carolina Central University, School of Law, J.D., 2017, cum laude

Morehouse College, B.A., 2009

Court Admissions

Georgia, 2017

