About

Trevor Brice represents businesses, individuals, and insurers in state and federal courts throughout Georgia. His practice includes an emphasis on general tort and insurance litigation, construction, and products liability law.

A 2013 graduate of Emory University School of Law, Trevor served as Executive Managing Editor of the Emory International Law Review. He received his bachelor's degree in political science from the University of Georgia in 2009.

Prior to attending law school, Trevor worked as a journalist at one of the nation's largest newspapers. His work has been published dozens of times, both before and after becoming a lawyer.

Trevor's passion for writing and debate continues to drive him to achieve the best results possible for his clients.
