

Commercial Transportation Law

Commercial transportation is an essential industry—it keeps our society moving. However, a lot can happen out on the road, whether it's lost cargo or an injury claim. Our commercial transportation attorneys represent all facets of this crucial industry, to ensure that it is able to function efficiently and safely.

We represent all related transportation entities throughout the Southeast, including:

- Carriers
- Shippers
- Freight forwarders
- Owner operators
- Transportation brokers

Our services to this industry begin with proactive/preventative strategies to confirm that they are utilizing best practices while remaining compliant with all relevant regulations. Our attorneys are equipped to respond immediately to losses at any time of the day or night and handle any loss through resolution.

Losses we can assist with include:

- Catastrophic injury claims
- Cargo losses
- Environmental spills
- Scope of employment issues

Similarly, we bring our wide expertise to the insurance coverage issues relating to the transportation industry.
