

HEALTH AND SAFETY (OSHA)

Drew Eckl & Farnham assists clients with Health and Safety issues from beginning to end including policy and procedure creation and review, accident investigation and prevention, government investigations, and responding to citations from government agencies. That assistance includes representation throughout the entire OSHA inspection and citation process with assistance available during the investigation, responding to citations, abatement of hazards, citation and penalty negotiations, and even contesting citations. In addition to assisting clients through OSHA inspections, our practice group has substantial experience representing employers working to create or review a health and safety program and responding to OSHA requests for information. Our experience and in-depth knowledge of regulatory compliance standards for OSHA can help with:

- Accident investigation and crisis management coordination
- Health and Safety training programs and best practices
- OSHA requests for information
- On-site OSHA inspections and investigations
- Responding to and defending OSHA citations
- Abatement of hazards
- Negotiation of OSHA citations, penalties and abatement
- Filing formal notices of contest against OSHA
